

ILLUSTRATIONS

|                                                                                                                                                |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Figure 8.1. Silent Disco at the Edinburgh Festival                                                                                             | 154 |
| Figure 8.2. Possession by Kunde, the father and hunter of the Brekete pantheon. © Elise Ridenour                                               | 159 |
| Figure 8.3. Possession by Tseriya, the mother of the Brekete pantheon. © Elise Ridenour                                                        | 159 |
| Figure 8.4. Sacrificed to the music while being doused with cold water. Drawing by Abu Zubaydah depicting multisensory torture. © Abu Zubaydah | 163 |
| Figure 8.5. Inside the small confinement box. © Abu Zubaydah                                                                                   | 164 |
| Figure 8.6. Abu Zubaydah drawing, ‘The Vortex’, representing the full panoply of torture techniques. © Abu Zubaydah                            | 166 |
| Figure 8.7. Shabeh positional torture. © B’Tselem                                                                                              | 167 |
| Figure 8.8. Abu Zubaydah before capture in 2002 and after four years in US custody                                                             | 173 |
| Figure 8.9. Start them young                                                                                                                   | 174 |
| Figure 9.1. The temple sanctum. © R.K. Sreejith                                                                                                | 188 |
| Figure 9.2. Pilgrims before the sanctum. © R.K. Sreejith                                                                                       | 188 |
| Figure 9.3. The namajapaghoshayatra . © G. Sivaprasad                                                                                   | 190 |
| Figure 9.4. Abasement of a twice-born in protest. © G. Sivaprasad                                                                              | 191 |
| Figure 9.5. Hindu militants surround the Ayyappan shrine. © G. Sivaprasad                                                                      | 191 |

Figure 9.6. A woman activist, even though protected by police, fails to break through a barrier of Hindutva militants.

© G. Sivaprasad

192

Figure 11.1. The Olympic performance system: orthodox form.

© John MacAloon

233

Figure 11.2. The Olympic performance system: a transformation.

© John MacAloon

233

Victor Turner – a fierce and penetrating intellectual presence: Vic and Edie Turner at an informal mealtime seminar in Japan, 1981. Photo courtesy of Don Handelman. Others in the photo are Masao Yamaguchi and Bruce Kapferer.